He specially welcomed Chair of the ICW Sectional Steering Committee NIGERIA Mrs. Janet I K Jolaoso and all members who were attending the meeting for the first time along with the prominent professionals representing India from Various States. He appreciated the efforts of all concerned to make the meeting possible. He also recognized the contribution made by Dr. J S Chauhan of Samrat Ashok Technical Institute (SATI), Vidisha and Dr. Seema Saxena, SPA from SPIU, MP.

He said that Members should discuss with open mind the Agenda points to arrive at an Action Plan for the committee.

Mrs. Janet I K Jolaoso welcomed the members and all others present in the meeting and said that she was looking forward to their participation and support to make this Conference a success.

Mr. Praveen Tiwari, General Manager CIDC and Member of Secretariat gave a brief review of the important Points proposed by the Committee members to seek consent from DG, CIDC. The points under discussion were as follows:

- To empower vocational education to be fit for the construction Industry.
- The Nigeria technical education requires a lot of push and technical support especially in areas of updated training.
- To critically diagnose the relevance of construction related courses in the Nigeria vocational schools and upgrade as appropriate.
- Seek collaboration with the technical education teachers in the construction, masonry, woodwork, house plumbing etc to be re-engaged to better understand the challenges of the construction industry and thus develop and design upgraded courses that suit their needs
- Seek partnership with the National institute of builders, and National board for technical education for a holistic approach to the development and design of the approach

- Collaboration with building engineering student bodies across different institutions for student membership and internship in some selected construction firms who will be project partners
- These will give us access to both the students and professionals, and thus drive the needed awareness for the conference and other subsequent engagements.
- To revive and recover from the Covid-19, Construction firms now need to build into homes/Offices as new normal. Washing points at the entrance/ some designated points of home as a standard for either residence and or commercial buildings
- Members promotion - Selected corporate organization that will choose students as student engineers and or interns can use these points as their CSR initiative
- Services to be promoted in conference- To train construction Company on ISO standards, staff productivity, excellent management, project management and well as excellence customer service delivery
- Concept to be promoted at the conference - To help construction firms bridge their construction skillset with vocational and student engineer engagement.
- Expected collaborators
 - National board for technical education
 - The ministry of science and technology
 - Selected student bodies (Architects, Construction and civil engineers)
 - Selected real estate and construction engineering firms
